Reaction Over Relief Plea Of The President

House Group Ask For More Details On Need

WASHINGTON, March 15—(P)—President Roosevelt got prompt preliminary action today on his request for an extra $150,000,000 for relief—and along with it a tumultuous row which shattered Democratic harmony in the House.

A House appropriations subcommittee, starting consideration of the President's recommendation within 24 hours of its submission, asked Col. F. C. Harrington, WPA administrator, to explain in detail why more money was needed.

Administration leaders predicted the President would get his $150,000,000, but from some House Democrats came expressions of resentment over the new demand.

It was embarrassing, they said, to be requested to reverse so soon the action by which Congress lopped $150,000,000 from the $875,000,000 which Mr. Roosevelt originally asked to operate the WPA until June 30.

Resentment Evident
They also objected to the fact supervision of the emergency bill was taken from Rep. Woodrum (D-Va.), leader of an economy bloc, and turned over to Chairman Taylor (D-Colo.), of the appropriations committee.

Rep. Cox (D-Ga.), who has opposed some administration measures, said:

"Members are shocked at the treatment of Mr. Woodrum, who is one of the ablest and most influential members of the House. They are so restful that the $150,000,000 would be defeated overwhelmingly if it were voted on today."

Whether the protests over depositing Woodrum would swing any votes against the $150,000,000 remained to be seen.

But it was an open question, also, whether Mr. Roosevelt's latest appeal for more money had undermined any of the opposition to his original request for $875,000,000. A survey of a score of Democrats who had voted against it, disclosed none has changed his position.

Most Republicans were silent on the issue, although Senator McNary, the minority leader, said if the money was "actually needed for relief and not for politics" it would be authorized.

Fight Likely Be Hot

The President told Congress insufficiency of present funds would compel the WPA to discharge about 1,200,000 workers in the immediate future and that this would affect 5,600,000 persons.

The fight over extra funds, involving the broad subject of federal spending, likely will be one of the hottest of the session.

In the appropriations subcommittee, a number of members took the position that "you've got to show me." Enough insisted on ample hearings to insure a thorough scrutiny of the presidential request.

From both Republicans and Democrats, moreover, considerable support developed for a proposal by Cox to broaden the committee's powers so it could make a complete check-up on WPA and determine whether it was "fish or fowl, sane or insane, good or bad."

Senator Adams (D-Colo.), floor manager for emergency relief bills, told reporters he favored an investigation of the entire relief set-up.

On the Taylor sub-committee only one member favored the President's original proposal for $875,000,000 for relief, but there were indications some were wavering over restoration of the $150,000,000 cut.

Two Possibilities For Aldermanic Candidates

Two additional members of the Democratic party are being spoken of as possible candidates for nomination for aldermen in their respective wards, Charles Ernest Sullivan in the first ward. Ernest served as alderman from his ward in 1918 and 1919 under Mayor F. F. Hatton.

Crude Incubator Fails To Save Twin Girls

AURODA, Mo., March 15—(P)—A crude cupboard incubator failed to save the lives of two-pound twin girls born prematurely to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lloyd. The babies died yesterday in the Lloyds' one-room cabin west of Madry.

Aged Man Found Dead

TRENTON, Mo., March 15—(P)—Ben F. Stewart, 80, was found dead on a farm north of Trenton yesterday. He wandered away from his Trenton home Friday. Dr. J. F. Fair, coroner, said exposure caused his death.

Thirteen Quit Politic Posts

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., March 15—(P)—Thirteen members of the Greene county Democratic committee have resigned their committee posts in compliance with a recent order from WPA headquarters in Washington, forbidding political activity by WPA employees, Fred A. Moon, committee chairman, said today.

Included in the list is Guy L. Wade, district WPA director here, who has served on the committee for several years. Moon said the committee will meet Friday to nominate candidates for the vacancies, which will be filled by Governor Stark.

Samuel P. Harlen, chairman of the Pettis county Democratic committee, stated this afternoon that he had received no resignations from any Pettis county committee members, and so far as he knows, none are holding WPA posts.

Progress For Tax Revision Is Being Made

No Conclusions Thus Far Been Fully Reached

WASHINGTON, March 15—(P)—Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) of the senate finance committee reported after a white house tax revision conference today that progress had been made but no conclusions reached.

Harrison conferred with the president along with Secretary Morgenthau and Undersecretary Hanes of the treasury and Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn) of the house ways and means tax subcommittee.

None of the conferees would commit himself on details of what the president described yesterday as a program to consolidate existing corporation taxes without loss of any revenues those levies now bring.

"I want to wait until the March 15 income tax returns are in to find out how much money there is to raise," Harrison said.

Both he and Cooper said there had to be a tax bill this session because many excise levies would expire in June and the corporation income tax in December.

Prompt Action Desired
In the wake of President Roosevelt's statement that the administration was considering an overhaul of corporation taxes, powerful senate sentiment developed today for prompt action as an aid to business.

The chief executive, discussing tax questions at his press conference late yesterday, said consolidation of five existing business levies was being studied. But he added any revision must maintain federal revenues at their present level.

Amid consideration of the tax problem, the administration was confronted with another request for encouragement of business when 16 stock exchanges recommended the securities commission order sweeping modifications of its regulations.

The New York stock exchange and 15 others called for cleared definition of rules on manipulation and a simplification of registration statements. Present rules, they contended, deter operators from acts which "are wholly in the public interest."

After Mr. Roosevelt outlined his tax views, some members of congress said his remarks appeared to conflict with statements by Speaker Bankhead and Senate Leader Barkley.

Those two men have indicated a belief little would be gained from revising corporation levies because the aggregate tax load could not be reduced. Bankhead had said he expected no general revision this year.

Asked about the Barkley and Bankhead statements that a single tax would hurt small companies, Mr. Roosevelt said the matter was still in the study stage.

Clark Home Damaged In A Roof Blaze

Fire caused from sparks from a burning flue did more than $50 damage to the roof of the dwelling of F. A. Clark, 923 East Broadway about 12:08 o'clock this afternoon.

Quick work on the part of the fire fighters in putting into use a booster pump probably saved the residence from a greater loss.

At 2:26 o'clock a burning flue at the home of Dan H. Phillips, 1608 East Tenth street, caused a run by the fire companies.

Two Lose Lives

In Auto-Truck Crash
JASPER, Mo., March 15—(P)—Robert Milton, 77, and Mrs. Milton, about 65, were killed yesterday in a collision with their motor car and a gravel truck on a bridge seven miles southwest of here.

Dr. A. N. Winchester, Jasper county coroner, said the accident was unavoidable and there would be no inquest.

Cheers And Hisses For The Nazis

Many Villages Occupied By Nazi Troops

PRAGUE, March 15—(P)—German troops of occupation were hissed and cheered today as they moved into positions of control in the once proud capital of free Czechoslovakia.

Cheers of German welcomers were interspersed with the hissing of Czech patriots and cries of "pfui, pfui, go back home!" Some patriots sang the Czech national anthem. Two persons were reported struck by German military automobiles. There were no serious disorders, however.

Huge crowds were massed along the central streets of Prague as the troops, in four groups, moved in.

At times the "pfui's"—continental version of the Bronx cheer—were so loud that they could be heard blocks away. The crowds grew more demonstrative as the troops increased in number.

At one point along the route the strains of the national anthem rose above the noisy exult of the mechanized equipment bearing the Germans into Prague.

Here and there the troops were encouraged by cries from German groups wearing swastika arm-bands.

Before the ancient Rathaus (city council building) a large German delegation had gathered, bearing a swastika banner of heroic size which the Nazis like to hang from their public buildings. But it was the only one in sight.

Lifeless Reception
No flags of any sort decorated the houses or streets. Some street cars flew various flags but they were the Czech colors, such as would be flown on a national holiday.

It was the most lifeless and colorless reception that Reichsfuehrer Hitler's troops had received since the Fuehrer started his expansion program.

The contrast between today's reception and the flowers and kisses with which Nazi troops were welcomed when they occupied sudetenland last October was most striking.

The crowds were moody. When open disapproval or approval—as in the case of the Germans—was not being freely displayed

Novel Program In S.-C. Assembly

A novel program for the Smith-Cotton junior high school students was presented this morning in the auditorium at 8:30. It was fashioned from the popular Kay Kysar Musical Quiz program on the radio weekly.

Four students from each, the junior and senior high school were selected by Burney Morris, music instructor at the high school, to have a contest to determine which section would finish with the greater number of points.

The students representing the junior high were Emily Gatchett, Bob Vilmer, Janet Stanley, and Dick Erickson. The senior high representatives were Jack McCullough, Anabel Hugelman, Bob Wild and Patricia Poundstone.

The junior high won the contest by six points, the final score being 140-134. The winners were each awarded a ticket to a motion picture show.

The score keepers and judges were Harold Barrick, from senior high and Doris Boone from junior high.

Burney Morris acted as master of ceremonies; Winifred Halter from the senior high school accompanied on the piano all the musical "questions."

It was possible for each student to make fifty points apiece as the contest was divided into four rounds; a total of 200 points for each side.

Sedalia Girl To Student Meet

Miss Llewellyn Could Chosen In This County

Miss Llewellyn D. Gould, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verne W. Gould, 602 South Monticau, and a senior at the Smith-Cotton high school, has been chosen as the Pettis county representative at the State Student Assembly in Jefferson City on Saturday by virtue of the high score she made in a test on government.

The State Student Assembly is held every year in the capital to acquaint high school students with the legislature and its proceedings, and to give them more insight into the government of the state.

The test is open to any high school junior or senior who is taking or has taken a course in government.

Each year a different subject is discussed. "Taxation and General Civics" will be brought up at this meeting.

Miss Gould is happy about her trip to Jefferson City and is looking forward to seeing the murals of Thomas Hart Benton.

Letter From King

A letter from Lloyd W. King, state superintendent of schools, congratulated her upon being selected and asked that she send in a taxation bill, which the other county representatives are doing. The most practical ones will be brought before the assembly to be voted on.

When asked if she would like to be a state senator or representative she replied: "I will enjoy being at the State Student Assembly, but I don't think I would like to be a senator or representative."

Kenneth Raab, teacher at the Smith-Cotton high school, gave the test to Miss Gould.

The assembly starts at 9:30 o'clock in the morning and continues through the early part of the afternoon. The students elect their own officers.

Elks Club Election Will Be Tonight

The Elks Club will hold its annual election of officers tonight, and members plan to move into their newly redecorated quarters, at Fourth and Kentucky streets, in a week. The redecoration work, at a cost of approximately $11,000, repairs the damages inflicted when the club was gutted by fire January 23.

Present officers of the club include William Hurlbut, Jr., exalted ruler, and Joe Reid, secretary.

Ultimatum To Chust Regime

Troop Advance Of Hungarians Is Hampered

BUDAPEST, March 15—(P)—The Hungarian government today backed up its armies which were occupying Carpatho-Ukraine by sending an ultimatum to the local government of the territory demanding that de facto powers there be given the Hungarian general staff by 3 p. m. (2 a. m. EST) tonight.

Hungarian troops were within 13 miles of the Polish border in Carpatho - Ukraine (Ruthenia) when the Budapest foreign office sent the demand to Augustin Volosin, premier of Carpatho-Ukraine, at Chust, the capital.

The ultimatum demanded that he hand over all actual powers to the Hungarian general staff, and said prompt acceptance would "prevent bloodshed."

An Hungarian general staff communique said the commander of Czech troops in Carpatho-Ukraine had asked under a white flag for a delay of five days to complete the evacuation of his men.

In reply the Hungarian command demanded the Czechs lay down their arms immediately. However, negotiations for an agreement continued.

Hint Of Resistance

The ultimatum to the Chust regime was the first hint that Hungarian troops, who started their steady advance yesterday, might be meeting some resistance from the Carpatho-Ukrainians themselves.

Budapest sent a 24-hour ultimatum to Prague yesterday demanding the withdrawal of Czech troops from the eastern-most section of what until yesterday was Czechoslovakia.

That demand, however, was termed unsatisfactory by Hungarian officials, who declared last night that "immediate measures will be taken" to protect Hungarian residents of the area.

Official news agency dispatches declared clashes occurred between Hungarians and Czechs although the Prague government had ordered its gendarmes and soldiers to evacuate the territory into Rumania last night.

Volosin, snubbed in pleas for assistance by Germany and Italy was believed unlikely to attempt to defend Chust against the Hungarian army, which sought to add about 4,000 square miles of territory to Hungary by nightfall.

It was thought probable the second Hungarian ultimatum was sent to speed up the occupation by ending all show of resistance.

British Aim To Keep Peace By Agreement

Expression Of Regret On Czech-Slovak Breakup

LONDON, March 15—(P)—Prime Minister Chamberlain told a tense house of commons today that "I bitterly regret" Germany's occupation of Bohemia and Moravia but added, "Do not let us be deflected from our course" of trying to reach peace by agreement.

He spoke a few minutes after Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax told the house of lords Germany's march into the Czech areas was "bound to administer a shock to confidence all the more regrettable since confidence was beginning to revive."

Like Halifax, Chamberlain refused to "make charges of breach of faith," but he implied criticism of Adolf Hitler's action when he solemnly declared:

"Hitherto Germany has only incorporated in the reich people of German race, but now they are taking military occupation of places where there are people with whom they have no racial relation."

Halifax had said that so far as knew Germany had failed to notify the other three signers of the Munich accord — Britain, Italy and France — before taking over Czech territory.

He told the attentive peers that Germany's action made "inappropriate" at present a projected visit of Oliver Stanley, board of trade president, and R. S. Hudson, overseas secretary, to Berlin on a peace through trade drive. The visit, he said, was postponed.

"Even though what has now taken place has occurred with the acquiescence of the Czech government, I can not but regard it as inconsistent with the spirit of the Munich agreement," Halifax said.

Earlier in the day Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador, had been instructed to make diplomatic representations in Berlin which were understood to give expression to this view.

Halifax, said no further installments of a British loan would be paid to Czechoslovakia "until the situation has been cleared up."

He referred to loans and gifts Britain has made to Prague after the Munich agreement. These totaled 16,000,000 pounds or $70,000,000 but of this amount, he said, 6,750,000 pounds or $33,750,000, remains in the Bank of England.

Before Chamberlain spoke, Laborite Seymour Cocks spared the premier from replying to his question on when Britain's guarantee of Czechoslovakia's frontiers would be implemented.

"In the circumstances, I think it would be kinder and more dignified not to ask this question," Cocks said when the speaker called upon him to put it to Chamberlain.

Good Will Trip To Otterville

Forty-four Sedalians, most of them business or professional men, made a good will trip to Otterville Tuesday night and joined twenty-five residents of that place in a dinner, served by the women of the Methodist church, at the Streit hall.

Mayor Judd Golladay presided as toastmaster and Senator J. H. Gunn welcomed the guests, Joseph L. Rosenthal, president of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, responded for the Sedalians and short talks were made by D. S. Lamm, Chas. O. Botz, and Ellsworth Green, of Sedalia, as well as several residents of Otterville.

Fix Execution Of Kenyon For April 28

To Die In Lethal Chamber Instead Of On Gallows

ALTON, Mo., March 15—(P)—Judge William E. Barton of Houston today fixed the date for the execution of Robert Kenyon, condemned kidnaper-slayer of Dr. J. C. B. Davis of Willow Springs, for Friday, April 28.

Kenyon, who has been held in jail at Poplar Bluff for safekeeping since his conviction in July 1937, was removed to Alton early today by Sheriff Charles Farrell and two highway patrolmen. He will be taken immediately to the state penitentiary to await execution in Missouri's lethal gas chamber.

Dr. Davis was kidnapped and slain in February, 1937, and his bullet pierced body was found later by officers who were taken to the scene by Kenyon, a 22 year old Howell county farm laborer. Kenyon maintained he killed the doctor in self defense but officers testified the doctor had been shot in the back.

Kenyon was first sentenced to die on the gallows but the state's new law changing the method of execution to lethal gas became effective during the time the supreme court studied Kenyon's appeal.

Dr. Davis was the father of H. C. Davis, of 1122 West Seventh street, this city.

Call Inquiries On Occupation

LONDON, March 15.—The British government today instructed Sir Neville Henderson, ambassador to Berlin, to make inquiries about the German occupation of Czechoslovakia, while Prime Minister Chamberlain conferred with his cabinet and prepared a statement for the house of commons.

The British diplomatic action, however, was understood merely to have sought an explanation of Germany's intentions regarding the state now brought under her protection. Stronger intervention was regarded unlikely, although it was indicated the inquiries could be interpreted as a mild protest.

Foreign office officials said Sir Neville would act today and that the prime minister would clarify the British government's position before parliament shortly.

The cabinet devoted a lengthy session to discussion of the question.

Both Britain and France watched coldly the German and Hungarian troop occupations of the shattered Czechoslovak republic.

An Implied Warning

PARIS, March 15.—Germany notified France today of the Nazi occupation of Bohemia and Moravia and by implication advised the Paris government to keep its hands off the Central European crisis.

A note from Berlin was delivered at the foreign ministry informing the French government of Germany's action and declaring that the occupation was being carried out "in full accord with the government of Prague."

In quarters close to the French government this was interpreted to mean that Germany and France's former ally—Czechoslovakia—had settled accounts between themselves and looked for no French intervention.

French deputies and senators alike called upon the Daladier government today to explain whether it would move to counteract the growth of German power resulting from the dismemberment of Czechoslovakia.

Take Positions Of Control In Prague Today

Bulletin

BERLIN, March 15—(P)—DNE, the official German news agency, announced tonight Reichsfuehrer Hitler entered Prague, capital of shattered Czechoslovakia, at 7:15 p. m. (1:15 p. m. EST).

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

BERLIN, March 15—(P)—Adolf Hitler, protector of Bohemia and Moravia, sponsor and guarantor of Slovakia, joined his vast cavalcade of soldiers pouring into shattered Czechoslovakia today while Czechs cried bitter "pfuis" at his tanks rumbling through the streets of Prague.

To Prague Friday

Informed persons said Chancellor Hitler would reach Prague Friday and the interval would be used by black uniformed SS guards — the Security Service — to make sure no untoward incident would attend the fuhrer's triumphant entry into the ancient capital of old Czechoslovakia.

This is in keeping with a practice observed during two previous entries into capitals of annexed territory.

German troops entered Austria March 11. Two days later Hitler entered Vienna. The Sudetenland was taken over Oct. 1, 1938. Two days later the chancellor went to the principal Sudeten cities, Asch and Eger.

The swastika flies over Bohemia and Moravia, which have become in effect merely parts of the greater German reich and probably will be less independent than most protectorates. They were shorn of armies and power over their foreign affairs and lacked even a common name.

Before the day is over Hitler is expected to proceed like a conqueror of old into Hrdaceny castle, Prague's famous fortress residence of Czechoslovakian presidents and the burial vault of men who made glorious Bohemian history. His soldiers had occupied the castle in the snowy morning.

Just east of newly "protected" Bohemia and Moravia stood Slovakia, Europe's newest state — one day old and squarely under the reich's firm guarantee. Any German who wants to fly the swastika in Slovakia may do so.

Further on in the path of Hitler's drive to the east, Carpatho-Ukraine was methodically being occupied by Hungary's army, obviously by arrangement with Germany.

The local government there got a new ultimatum from Hungary to hand over all actual powers to the Hungarian general staff by 8 p. m. tonight (1 p. m. CST). Czech troops were on their way out in capitulation to an earlier ultimatum from Budapest.

Is The 'Balance' Of Europe Shifting?

Slowly, ponderously, like a great gate beginning to swing, Europe seems to feel a slow shift of balance. It is felt more than seen, yet perhaps it is no less real because it can not be demonstrated like a mathematical proposition.

The balance of Europe, which seemed to teeter so definitely toward Germany and Italy last fall, is almost certainly swinging away from the equilibrium of September.

The speech of Hore-Belisha, the British war minister, before the House of Commons in which he outlined the British arms advances, is one of the frankest ever delivered on that subject.

Hore-Belisha quite frankly and flatly said that the British army is being trained and equipped for service on the European continent, and that the most careful plans for its transport and maintenance are already made.

This change in policy brings Britain back to pre-Haldane days, he said, and means that any adequate defense of Britain must begin far beyond the cliffs of Dover.

Hore-Belisha revealed that, even excluding India and Burma, Britain has a half million men under arms, almost 100,000 more than a year ago. In a volunteer army, built without conscription, that is a sizeable increase.

And while he did not speak of obligations and alliances, the minister made it clear that they are all equipped and ready to defend France in any emergency that means that they would also be defending Britain.

France has already put the foot down quite firmly on surrendering to territorial demands from Mussolini. Even the countries of southeastern Europe seem to have stiffened in their attitude toward German expansion.

The strongest cards a diplomat can hold in a 1939-1940 game of international showdown poker seem to be clubs. It is gradually becoming apparent that the British are gradually shaping a club that is not stuffed, and which carries a good stout spike in the end.

Perhaps the next British statesman to sit in on an international poker session will have a better hand than Chamberlain held in September, 1938. He could not yet hold all the trumps and aces, but one by one, some of the cards have begun to fall his way.

Perhaps Europe's best hope for peace would lie in a situation where all players were so sure the other fellow held strong cards that nobody would want to call. Then, perhaps, they would give up poker and turn to ping-pong.

I've drawn three paces this session, and I don't think I've earned them.—Pennsylvania State Senator Robert Lee Jacobs.

The business baiters in Oregon proposed a law to prohibit banks and trust companies from acting as executors or administrators of estates—about as silly a thing as one can imagine. That proposal was defeated. They then proposed a law to prohibit banks and trust companies from "soliciting" such business through advertising in any form whatsoever. This is just another example of the trend of the times in legislative bodies to limit or destroy the right of free speech and free action in a supposedly free country. It's high time the public awakened to the danger it faces from too much legislation and regulation of private initiative.

This Is Real Freedom

Just what do you think would happen to anyone who held a meeting in Berlin at which he denounced the Nazi government and its officials, referred contemptuously to the Chancellor as "Adolph Hitlerovich," and advocated a virtual revolution?

The participants in the meeting would find themselves swiftly incarcerated in a concentration camp—if they were fortunate enough to escape the headsman's axe.

Yet in New York, the German-American Bund recently held a meeting in Madison Square Garden, which was decorated for the occasion with swastika flags and guarded by men wearing Nazi storm-trooper uniforms, at which the speakers sneered at the President of the United States and called him "Franklin Rosenfeld," denounced high government officials, including a distinguished Justice of the Supreme Court, called for the extermination of the Jews, and pledged themselves to establish a virtual Nazi dictatorship in this country. And what happened? Were the Bund members arrested as enemies of the government? No—instead, one of the largest concentrations of police in New York's history surrounded the meeting place, and protected them while they aired their views, which would destroy the freedom and protection they were enjoying.

There isn't another country in the world where that could happen. For there isn't another country in the world where the cardinal tenet of democracy, free speech, is so zealously protected. And free speech means the right to speak by those with whom you most violently disagree, as well as those with whom you agree. It means the right to call for a change of government. It means giving the people every chance to hear all sides of a controversy, and to weigh fact against fact and theory against theory before reaching a decision.

When you hear someone denouncing America and its institutions, remember this. Think of what happens to those bold enough to speak, even in moderate terms, against the regimes in power in Germany, Russia, Italy and a host of small countries. Ours is a freedom possessed by no other people. Why try to destroy it?

• The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON— Mrs. Preston Davie, red-haired New York socialite, has taken Senator Robert Taft under her large and aggressive wing as the 1940 GOP white hope. Mrs. Davie is the wealthy lady who won prominence in the London campaign with daily newspaper articles which always began: "Only empty-ump days left to save the American way."

Under her auspices the Ohio Senator quietly spent a week in Manhattan while his colleagues were dreading debating army air corps expansion. Here he got acquainted with leading business men, bankers and publishers—all potential campaign contributors and supporters.

The high point of Taft's sortie was a dinner Mrs. Davie gave for him in her elaborate apartment on 52nd street overlooking the East River. Guests were a carefully selected group of wealthy and influential Republicans, among them Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Reid, owners of 'The New York Herald Tribune, and Lewis L. Strauss, war-time secretary to Herbert Hoover and partner in the international banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

Political talk did not entirely monopolize the conversation Mrs. Davie regaled the company with an account of a visit she made to the ancestral estate of Count Potocki, Polish Ambassador to the U. S., and how she had got along "cozily with the peasants."

"Such interesting people," she related, "and very well taken care of by the Count, too."

Dewey "Communists"

Mrs. Davie is telling intimates she is very thrilled with Senator Taft and his White House prospects.

"He did extremely well during his visit here," she says, "made a most excellent impression on the right people with his sound views and delicious sense of humor. He is very witty."

Mrs. Davie is not seriously worried by the boom for District Attorney Tom Dewey.

"If he becomes too troublesome," she explains, "then we'll just take him into camp and give him the vice-presidency. You know, Dewey mightn't be so bad if it weren't for that terrible Communist Kenneth Simpson, anti-Hoover New York Republican State Chairman). He is a bad influence on Dewey and keeping a lot of the right people from supporting him."

Note—Mrs. Davie and Simpson tangled bitterly last year when she demanded that the GOP support purged Democratic Congressman John O'Connor, and Simpson opposed. She is going ahead with her movement to nominate Taft, although she holds no party office now.

"Mister Pacelli"

If Pope Pius XII ever fulfills his hope of revisiting the United States, he will find a warm reception in the National Press Club, which he visited when he was Vatican Secretary of State. Many people met Cardinal Pacelli when he lunched at the

"Tell them to come on in and we'll play bridge. They surely don't expect us to drive clear out to their place in this storm."

Press Club, but one who remembered him most enthusiastically was Sam, a bulky colored waiter, who remarked the other day:

"It sho' is nice that Mister Pacelli was made Pope. I think Mister Pacelli is one of the nicest men I know."

Arthurdale Jinx

There is still a jinx at Arthurdale, the subsistence homestead project in the West Virginia hills where, with the blessing of Mrs. Roosevelt, the New Deal has attempted to resettle stranded miners.

The project encountered rough weather in the Rex Tugwell days when critics exposed inordinate expenses, delays, and faulty construction. Mrs. Roosevelt remained a faithful friend, contributing substantial sums from her own earnings to keep things going. Now the project has grief of another color—industrial disorders.

Two years ago, General Electric was persuaded to establish a small assembly plant at Arthurdale, in line with the theory that the ideal pattern of life is a combination of agriculture and industry. The homesteaders already had garden plots and farm lands; and the new plant, in which they would assemble parts for vacuum cleaners, was to provide them with a cash income.

But after about a year of operation, the plant shut down. The country was not buying enough vacuum cleaners.

Before this misadventure, however, a Pennsylvania shirt factory opened a small plant at Arthurdale to make parts of shirts. But a strike in the main plant in Pennsylvania forced the Arthurdale homesteaders to stop making collars and cuffs.

Arthurdale is making one more effort. This time it will turn out tractors. The American Cooperatives, Inc., will produce tractors and farm equipment at cost for farmers' cooperative organizations. The plant is under construction.

Note—Farm Security Administration has had better luck elsewhere. At the Jersey Homesteaders in Hightstown, they set up a factory for making women's and children's clothing. It is running at capacity. Pants are produced with signal success by the homesteaders at Westmoreland, Pa.; a woodworking plant will open next month at Tygart Valley, W. Va.; and construction of silk throwing plants and hosiery mills is beginning in five other homesteads in Tennessee, West Virginia, Alabama and North Carolina.

Wealth and Poverty

Construction of the Mellon Art Gallery proceeds apace. It will cost 15 million dollars, or 4 million dollars more than the great marble palace of the Supreme Court, and it will house a collection of art more valuable still.

Meantime, directly across the avenue, there thrives another type of art, announced by an advertisement reading, "Expert Tattooing In Colors." This is done in the "Modern Barber Shop," where the price of a haircut is a quarter, and where, if you get thirsty, you can duck into the Charles Hotel next door, which advertises that "We Have It And We Mix It."

On the swanky side of the avenue, the contrast is emphasized not only by the incomplete Mellon gallery, but by the Apex Building of the Federal Trade Commission, and the marble mausoleum of Archives—three multi-million dollar building within a stone's throw of Charles Hotel, where you can flop for the night for 50 cents, and buy a sandwich for a nickel.

Note—In 1932 President Hoover gave, as excuse for evacuating the Bonus Army from a plot of vacant land along Pennsylvania Avenue, the fact that a new building was about to be constructed there. Only now, seven years later, has this building—the Mellon Art Gallery—been started.

Fellowship of Prayer

Trying the Heart

Wednesday, March 15. Search me, O God, and know my heart; try me, and know my thoughts: Dead Psalm 139:1-7; 17-24.

This Psalm repeats Job's prayer to be weighed, but with other balances. Job's scales are in the day's deed; the psalmist asks to be searched in thought and desire, in his dreams as well as his deeds.

There is a searching which, like a doctor's examination, is necessary for the healing of our sicknesses. Back and beneath the day's deed, back and beneath the massive movements of any time are, after all, just our thoughts and hearts. But, lost in the external we seek almost every approach to the sad sickness of our time save their sources in our own souls. When we are ready to repeat the psalmist's prayer, we shall have taken the first step in any healing.

Prayer: Save us, Searching and Healing Light, from the peril of lives which fear the light. Though Thy searching sadden us, help us by Thy Grace to submit our thoughts, our affections and our desires to the tests of the love and goodness which Thou hast made sovereign in the way and life and truth of Jesus Christ. And what we thus discover amidst in ourselves help us to amend. Amen.

• Mind Your Manners

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is it important for a man to remember his wedding anniversary?
 2. Are flowers an appropriate gift for a wedding anniversary?
 3. What is the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary commonly called?
 4. If a husband forgets his wedding anniversary, should a wife put on a hurt act?
 5. Is it customary for children to give their parents a gift or in some way remember their wedding anniversary?
- What would you do if—
- You are a man and you forget your wedding anniversary until reminded by your wife when you come home that evening—
- (a) Apologize and suggest going out to celebrate?
- (b) Say you are sorry you forgot, and bring her a gift the next day?

WOMEN WANT BEAUTY!

BY LOUISE HOLMES

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday: Susie decides to go to Riverton, but she is apprehensive. Meanwhile, Dick is over-attentive. Susie's success may mean something to him in California!

CHAPTER XXVII

DICK declared his love in a hundred ways as he and Susie hummed along, the car gobbling up the miles and swallowing them with amazing ease. And Susie knew that doubt was past by the tightening of her nerves, by the mad thudding of her heart. The rapturous sensation almost succeeded in crowding out memory of Jeff, left standing like a slapped child, in the lobby. Almost, but not quite. Carelessly she had wounded Jeff, her best friend, and Susie knew what it meant to be neglected and thoughtlessly scorned.

She told herself that Jeff's telegram had been from Edna, that she was returning from her honeymoon, which news would have been enough to throw Jeff into his evident state of mind. She told herself that she would find an opportunity to call him before the day ended and apologize for her rudeness. Only half satisfied, her mind kept going back to the picture of him in the lobby. He remained in the way of her happiness, blurring it, discoloring it.

They stopped for lunch in a thriving Wisconsin city, lingering to talk, every word, every silence, every glance and gesture significant in a thrilling new way. They dived through a 10-cent store where Dick bought a ring, set with a huge piece of glass, for the third finger of Susie's left hand. They jested about the ring, but Susie's finger ached with the joy of it.

For Dick she purchased a bow tie mounted on celluloid flaps. He put it on right in the store. It was something to be remembered, that 15 minutes in the five and dime.

DRIVING on Dick scoffed at the barren fields, the naked trees and dirty ditch snow. Suzanne should see California. Perhaps she would see California, eh? This remark was accompanied by a glance at her profile. It was a serious profile. Why hadn't she waited a moment to talk with Jeff? Were they in such a hurry that she couldn't stop for common decency?

Dick went on to describe the land of his adoption. Glittering sunshine, palm trees, men mowing lawns that very day while he and Suzanne huddled in a heated car. "Fun all the time," he elaborated boastfully. "Any kind of fun you want, ocean, mountains, desert, snow—all in a day's time."

—swell, simply swell."

"What about your job?" Susie asked. Not a word had she heard concerning Dick's building.

He hedged. "Nobody really works in California. Too much going on." It was well, he admitted to himself, that Suzanne had the ability to make money. They must live well, do everything. No doubt she would be a celebrity in no time. Again Dick expanded with a pleased smile.

It was almost 4 when Susie registered at the Riverton hotel. Driving through the wintry streets she'd fought an inclination to lose her new identity, to be smothered by familiar sights. She could see herself, plodding along, weary, without hope. At the hotel she was not recognized, even her name, Suzanne Lambert, brought forth no comment. Encouraged, she went to her room, unpacked her evening gown and freshened up a bit.

"You are Suzanne," she told her reflected image in the mirror. "Don't let anyone tell you different. Susie is dead. She died in Harker's gymnasium. Suzanne—Suzanne—" She mumbled the name as she applied lip gloss in the way she had been taught.

She nodded. "Can't you see it, Dick?"

"In a way I can. Your eyes, I always thought you had nice eyes, and your cute little nose, it used to look like a button." He leaned back, regarding her dejectedly. He was thinking of Susie in relation to Hollywood, the place of miracles. She led the field in miracles. "How'd you do it—how'd you ever do it?"

She told him, the longing to be like other girls, the newspaper advertisement which was no less than an answer to her prayer, the letter she wrote to John Harker.

Dick kept ejaculating, "But it's unbelievable—it's unbelievable!" He sounded pleased.

While they ate waffles, Susie limiting herself to half of one, without butter or syrup, she finished the story of her fight for beauty, ending with, "I'm not really beautiful at all, Dick. It's simply that someone showed me how to minimize my bad features and make the most of my good ones."

"But your figure," Dick interrupted. "Where did you get that adorable little figure?"

"A Swedish Simon Legree and his wife gave me this figure," Susie told him. "Ten weeks of endless exercise, 10 weeks of starving—" She exhaled a long sigh of relief. Dick wasn't shocked, his eyes were even more openly admiring than they were before.

Need of Church

(By Church Reporter)

Dr. J. F. Odom, leader in the series of meetings being conducted at the First Methodist church delivered a striking message to the church last night, taking his theme and text from the twentieth chapter of Revelations and interpreting the chapter to his listeners, which was an interpretation of the state of the early church. The speaker gave many illustrations of the inner condition of the church today and said such a church can never hope to win against the odds and ills at work in the world in this generation.

He stated the church, if it is to succeed, must be an awakened church. It must be a church warm with the spirit of God. A church in continued and earnest prayer. A church with a tremendous passion and a church with a world-wide vision. This kind of a church, said the speaker, can win against any foe, but a lukewarm church cannot cope with present situations.

The special guests in the service tonight will be the Women's Home Missionary society, with Mrs. Frank Coffman as president.

The special guests for the service tomorrow night will be the Women's Foreign Missionary society and Friday night will be the entire church school. The members of the Ladies' Aid society were special guests at the service last night. Women were present from other aids of the city as well as those of the First Church.

The service begins each night except Saturday at 7:30 o'clock.

How Women in Their 40's Can Attract Men

Here's good advice for a woman during her change (usually from 38 to 52), who fears she'll lose her appeal to men, who worries about hot flashes, loss of pep, dizzy spells, upset nerves and moody spells. Just get more fresh air, 8 hrs. sleep and if you need a reliable "WOMAN'S" tonic take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made especially for women. It helps Nature build up physical resistance, thus helps give more vivacity to enjoy life and assist calming jittery nerves and those disturbing symptoms that often accompany change of life. Pinkham's is WELL WORTH trying.

Basil Gauntlett Has Rehearsal Here

Basil Gauntlett, of Columbia who will appear as piano soloist at the concert of the Sedalia symphony orchestra next Tuesday night, rehearsed with Abe Rosenthal, conductor, and members of the orchestra last night at Smith-Cotton high school.

Mrs. Gauntlett, came to Sedalia with her husband, who is director of the music department at Stephens college.

Mr. Gauntlett will return Sunday afternoon for a final rehearsal.

He will play the Saint Saens Concerto No. 5 for piano and orchestra, in addition to a solo group. The complete program for the concert will be announced Sunday.

HEADACHE

Just a few minutes to ease headaches, neuralgia, and other inorganic pains—whether from nerves or over-indulgence in eating or drinking! Just take Capudine and note how quickly head clears and pep returns.

Capudine is so effective because it does two important things: (1) It quickly and gently relieves pain. (2) It soothes and relaxes tense, high-strung nerves. A pleasant liquid, its ingredients are dissolved, all ready to act, therefore no long waiting. All drug stores in 30c and 50c bottles, also by dose at all drug stores.

Europe, wheat prices today lost about half of their gains.
Weakness of corn, with many contracts falling at times and within 1/2 cent of the lowest level since 1931, unsettled the wheat pit. Milling interests reported flour business is dull, with many mills idle. Market weakness in securities also disturbed the grain trade.

Wheat closed 1/2c to 3/4c higher than yesterday, May 67 1/2c to 67 3/4c, July 67 1/2c to 68c; corn unchanged to 1/4c lower, May 47 1/2c to 47 3/4c, July 49 1/2c to 49 3/4c; oats unchanged to 1/4c lower.

Girl Scout Notes

Robin Hood Troop 11 met Tuesday and worked on Out of Doors and Homemaking fields. We planned a hike and wieners roast for Saturday at the Little House. Laura Wilkerson, Scribe.

Troop 18 met at Broadway Friday. We took a short hike of one mile and are working on the Foot Travelers badge. We had a visitor, Peggy Prisdorf. Jean Friedebach, Scribe.

Troop 8 met Thursday at Horace Mann school. Dorothy Sue Roe gave a reading and we dramatized how to get out of vehicles properly. This is a part of the Safety and dramatic badges. Mrs. E. D. Marshall was a visitor. Elainea Marshall, Scribe.

Troop 9 met Tuesday at Washington with troop 16 with us for a color guard and investiture service, at which four members of troop 16 received their Tenderfoot pins. We worked on the Tenderfoot pins. Star Finder, Music and Glass

Today's Patterns

Here's a Princess That Is Pretty and Practical, Too
By CAROL DAY

You'll love this frock because it's pretty, it's practical and it's a princess. And it will probably be the most popular princess since little Snow White.

It's delightfully simple, young, slim-waisted and flaring. Anybody between sizes 12 and 40 can wear it gracefully. It buttons up the front to the chin. The plain neckline and sleeves that puff at the shoulders and narrow in to the arm, are finished with crisp pleated frills or lace ruffles.

Make this right now of flat crepe, thin wool or silk print. Wear a frilly petticoat with it, or sew in petticoat ruffles. The skirt is extra-flared for the purpose. Wear it this summer in cotton.

Pattern 8431 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20 and 40, yards ruffling for neck and Size 14 requires 4 1/2 yards of 39-inch material with short sleeves. With long sleeves, 4 3/4 yards; 1 1/2 sleeves.

The new SPRING and SUMMER PATTERN BOOK, 32 pages of attractive designs for every size and every occasion, is now ready. Photographs show dresses made from these patterns being worn; a feature you will enjoy. Let the charming designs in this new book help you in your sewing. One pattern and the new Spring and Summer Pattern Book—25 cents. Pattern or book alone—10c.

badges. On Thursday we took a hike to the Meadow Gold Ice cream plant and to the Sedalia Democrat. Violet Marie Reed received a Girl Scout book mark offered by our leader each month to the outstanding Girl Scout of the month. Velva Lee Hamilton, Scribe.

Troop 23 met Thursday with Mrs. E. M. Stafford, Jr., as the guest speaker. Her subject was "Braille For the Blind." We have one new member, Mary Ellen Beckham. At the next meeting we will start the World Trefoil badge and we will also do some book-binding for the blind. Virginia Dittmer, Scribe.

Troop 17 had a party at the last regular meeting with Mrs. Scott's mother as a special guest. Lois Steelman's mother was also a guest. Two new members were added to the roll. They are Betty Nail and Donna Grazier. We played ten pins and tag and served lemonade, cookies and fudge cycles. We closed the meeting with the promise, laws, and some Girl Scout songs. Maurine Scruton, Scribe.

Troop 7 took a hike on last Tuesday to the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. and took a trip through the plant. We are studying on the Transportation and Communication badge. We enjoyed it very much. June Decker, Scribe.

Troop 16 met Tuesday and the following girls were awarded their second class pins: Glenneta Hall, Jean Whitley, Melva Hamilton, and Helen Allen. The color guard was given by troop No. 9. After the ceremony both troops joined in playing dodge ball and "hot potato." Melva Hamilton, Scribe.

Troop 21 met at Jefferson school on Thursday and elected two new patrol leaders. They are Opal Boyer and Hazel Bratton. Our new leader, Miss Beckemeyer was with us and we spent the time filling out some new record sheets. We closed with songs. Sara Mae Morris, Scribe.

Troop 20 met at Sacred Heart on Tuesday with Miss Slane and Mrs. Charles Behrens as leaders. We have finished the puppets and will devote the next meeting to a rehearsal with them. Margie Behrens and Agatha Devine served pop corn balls and apples at the meeting. Next week Rosemary Whelan and Helen Cooney will be hostesses. Helen Cooney, Scribe.

Troop 5 met on Monday. We completed plans for our trip to the Little House on Friday. The troop has been divided into groups one to arrange games, one cooking, one cleaning, etc. We plan to stay until Saturday afternoon. Rosalie Bolton, Scribe.

Troop 2 met Tuesday with Mrs. Brill in charge. Several of the girls are working on badges at home and reports were made on the work done. We spent the remainder of the meeting playing out of doors. Norma Lee Kindred, Scribe.

Troop 12 has a new assistant leader, Mrs. Leslie Gill. We had an interesting meeting with troop 23 and our guest speaker was Mrs. E. M. Stafford, who spoke on the Braille system of writing for the blind. We worked on lapel novelties. Frances Anton, Scribe.

Brownie Notes

Pack 1 has had two interesting meetings the past two weeks at which we sewed card pictures, played new games and learned some Brownie songs. Our leader, Mrs. Scott has been ill and Mrs. Pressler has had charge of the pack. Ramona Stoffell and Ann Goist have been hostesses. Helen Hull, Scribe.

Troop 14 (Colored) met at the Lincoln school with twelve girls present. One new member was added to the troop, Dolores Bates. We decided to work on Nature Study Scrap books. We discussed the club room and what we could do to help in fixing it up. Some girls were chosen to act as ushers at church. This will serve as a part of the community service badge. Tilda Carter, Scribe.

Pack 2 met Monday at Horace

Mann school. Brown Owl called the roll at which we answered by putting our two cents in the bank and told how we earned it. Since March is the month of wind we made windmills. We went home by way of the magic touch. Doris Michael, Scribe.

Pack 3 had a fine treat on last Tuesday when our leaders, Mrs. McLaughlin and Mrs. Dean took us to the Fairgrounds to see the paintings that will be sent to the New York World's Fair. We enjoyed it very much. Margaret Walker, Scribe.

Pack 6 had their pictures taken on last Wednesday and then we were taken by our leaders, Mrs. Davenport and Mrs. Kennedy, to the Fair Grounds to see the World's Fair exhibit. We answered roll call by each telling why she liked to be a Brownie. Ruth Ann Yunker, Scribe.

Pack 8 met Thursday at Jefferson with all sixteen Brownies present. We embroidered tea towels and learned two new songs. Barbara Sumners, Scribe.

Pack 10 met at Broadway school with all members present and Donna Marie Robinson a guest. Mrs. Seifert told us about the Brownie Revel which will be held at Liberty park on May 13. We gave the promise and sang the song "Rock-a-Bye." We decided that the way we could be helpful at home this week is to fold our napkin and wait until we are served. We made pigs from green gumdrops, and then sang the Brownie song for dismissal. Madge Cloney, Scribe.

C. C. Hubbard Is Reappointed

JEFFERSON CITY, March 15.—(AP)—Gov. Lloyd C. Stark today appointed a new board of curators for the Lincoln (Negro) university here.

Two Negro members of the old board resigned. Terms of the other four members had expired. Only one was re-appointed. The three white members of the board appointed today were: Dr. F. L. McClure, president of Westminster college, Fulton, to succeed Joseph D. Elliff, Columbia; Wallace Fry, Mexico lawyer, to succeed L. B. Boler, Cape Girardeau; Clif Scruggs, Jefferson City, to succeed S. B. Bedford, Jefferson City. The new appointments are until January 1, 1943. The terms of Elliff, Boler and Bedford had expired.

Negro members of the new board are Dr. J. G. Perry, Kansas City, succeeding W. J. Tompkins, Kansas City; Frank S. Williams, St. Louis, succeeding J. S. McElmore, St. Louis and C. C. Hubbard, Sedalia, who was reappointed. The new terms expire January 1, 1941.

Negro Fined For Assault

Jesse Bell, Negro, charged with common assault upon Jim Kostelac, pleaded guilty to Judge Chas. W. Bente, sitting as ex-officio justice of the peace, this morning and was fined $25 and costs which he paid.

Since Hitler Rose To Power

(By The Associated Press)

Here are the outstanding dates of German history since Adolf Hitler became chancellor of the Nazi Reich, Jan. 30, 1933:

Oct. 14, 1933—Hitler announces Germany's withdrawal from the League of Nations and world disarmament conference.

June 30, 1934—Chushes mutiny of opponents in "blood purge."

Jan. 14, 1935—Germany wins Saar plebiscite.

March 7, 1936—Defying Locarno Pact, Nazi legions march into demilitarized Rhineland; Hitler offers to sign 25-year non-aggression pact.

Sept. 8.—Hitler demands return of war-lost colonies.

March 13, 1938—Germany annexes Austria two days after troops cross Austrian frontier.

Sept. 29—Four-power conference in Munich averts threatened European war by agreeing to give Sudetenland to Germany; later conferences gave parts of Czechoslovakia to Poland and Hungary.

Oct. 29—Hitlers deputy says Germany will claim all pre-war colonies—a total area of 1,127,095 1/2 square miles including former German east Africa, southwest Africa, Togoland, five groups of Pacific Ocean islands.

March 10, 1939—Slovak independence issue become acute; Hitler confers with his lieutenants.

March 14 — Czechoslovakia falls to peices; Hitler becomes more than ever master of Central Europe.

Mrs. Sarah Scow Dies

Mrs. Sarah Francis Holst Scow, 88, died suddenly at her home, 537 East Fourth street, at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, after a brief illness of influenza.

Mrs. Scow was born in Fayette, in 1850, the daughter of the late Rev. Carl and Etta Kresse. In 1870 she came to Sedalia where she married the late Henry P. Holst who died in 1920. To this union were born ten children, five of whom survive.

They are Mrs. Henrietta Grimm, Kansas City, H. J. Holst, Marshall, Mo., Kresse Holst, New Mexico, O. A. Holst and Mrs. Louise Wilkerson, of Sedalia.

In 1925 she was married to C. P. Scow, who also survives.

Mrs. Scow was a member of the Baptist church of Concordia and later joined the Methodist Episcopal church in Sedalia.

Funeral services will be held at Gillespies Funeral Home at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, the Rev. Q. R. Wright, pastor of the First M. E. church, to officiate. Music will be in charge of Mrs. A. R. Beach.

Interment will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

Funeral of Mrs. Dean

The funeral services for Mrs. Barthena E. Dean, who passed away at her home, 1604 South Montevue avenue, were held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the First Baptist church with the Rev. R. W. Leazer, officiating.

Friends who served as pallbearers were William Wade, E. L. Calvert, Dr. A. L. Walter, J. N. Simonds, Jess Moon and O. B. Poundstone.

Burial was in Crown Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Addie Kelly

Mrs. Addie Kelly, widow of the late Thomas Kelly, died at 7 o'clock this morning at the home of her son, Edward Kelly, near Hughesville. She had been in her usual good health until about a week ago, when she became ill with the flu, and even this morning was sitting up in a chair, death coming unexpectedly.

Mrs. Kelly was born in Mount Sterling, Ky., February 14, 1863, a daughter of William and Mary French. She was married in Kentucky to Mr. Kelly and they came to Missouri in 1902.

The deceased leaves one son, Edward, a step-son, Henry Kelly, Bloomington, Ill., a step-daughter, Mrs. Sallie Thomas Towana, Ill., three sisters, Mrs. Lydia Ramey, Warrensburg, Mo., Mrs. Mayme Sullivan, Quicks City, Mo., and Mrs. Nora Scrober, St. Joseph, and three brothers, Press and Louis French, of LaTour, and James French, Kansas City. Her husband died May 18, 1933.

Funeral services will be held at the Parker home in La Monte at 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

The following friends will serve as pallbearers: E. R. Kelly, H. M. Price, T. S. Craig, P. C. Whitehead, O. G. Agee and Lyman Wharton.

Interment will be in the La Monte cemetery.

Mrs. Mary L. Menefee

Mrs. Mary L. Menefee, aged almost ninety years, passed away at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday night at the Bothwell hospital.

Mrs. Menefee for the greater portion of her long and useful life resided on North Grand avenue in Sedalia. She was the widow of the late George T. Menefee and one of the pioneer residents of this city.

Her life was full of experiences, including a trip in 1872 with an ox train to California, which started from Knob Noster and included about twenty wagons for the long journey across plains, valleys and mountains. About three years were spent there and on the journey with her husband, was John W. Menefee, the father of John W. Menefee, Jr., county assessor, the former now deceased, many years an extensive buyer of mules and horses here.

Mrs. Menefee was born August 11, 1849 in Saline county, coming here at an early age.

At the age of nineteen she was married to George T. Menefee and they were parents of ten children, five of whom survive as follows: Mrs. Anna Grant, Portland, Ore., Mrs. Mildred Yeager, La Monte, Mrs. Charles Mahin, La Monte, Joseph W. Menefee of that place, and Mrs. Louise Holman, of Kansas City, together with numerous other relatives in Sedalia and Pettis county.

Mrs. Menefee was a member of the First Christian church here until moving to La Monte in 1918 since which time she had been a member of the Christian church there.

The body was taken to the Parker home at La Monte.

Funeral of Mrs. Greenwood

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stevens of West 7th street have returned from Texarkana, Texas, where they were called on account of the death of Mrs. Stevens' mother, Mrs. W. B. Greenwood who died suddenly early Saturday morning in Port Arthur, Texas at the home of another daughter, Mrs. A. A. Gunter. Funeral services were conducted at the Sacred Heart Catholic church in Texarkana, the family home.

Mrs. Greenwood, with her husband, the late W. B. Greenwood were prominent pioneer residents of Texarkana. Both had lived there 62 years. She is survived by five daughters and four sons.

Stephen L. Fluty

Stephen L. Fluty, 67 years old, passed away at the County Home early this morning.

Mr. Fluty is survived by four brothers, Emmet, of Marshall, Mo., of Kaiser, Mo.; Elbert of McAllister Springs, and Lon, of Sedalia; also two sisters, Mrs. J. M. Turner of Quincy, Ill., and Mrs. Ida Rynard of Windsor.

Funeral services will be held at the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning. Interment will be in the Knob Noster cemetery.

Complete arrangements have not been made.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the La Monte Christian church, the Rev. A. W. Kokendoffer, pastor of the First Christian church here, assisted by the Rev. C. B. Oranhood, La Monte pastor, to officiate.

Friends will be pall bearers and interment will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

Hitler With Soldiers In Advance East

the Bohemian-Moravian borders in ever increasing number. The zero hour for capitulation was six o'clock this morning, set when Hacha made a midnight capitulation to Hitler at Berlin as Germany's Henri IV did nine centuries before to Pope Gregory VII at Canossa.

Soon Pilsen's beer and bullets were in the German army's hands and troops moved on to Prague. At Pilsen, famous for its beer brewing, there is also the huge Skoda armaments plant. Last available figures showed it employed 36,000 persons.

Nazi troops were especially quick to seize cities where the German element predominated.

The tri-colored flag of the state that was had been hauled down from Hradecny castle as early as 9 a. m. (2 a. m. CST). Soon after that, Hitler had joined his troops at an undisclosed place on the way in.

Statesmen To Prague

Several hours later another group of statesmen started by special train from Berlin for Prague. They included President Hacha — who now signs state papers as "representative of Bohemia and Moravia" — and former Czech Foreign Minister Frantisek Chvalkovsky, now a diplomat without a job.

With them was Hacha's daughter, carrying the customary bouquet handed to her by Dr. Otto Meissner, Hitler's chief of cabinet. But army battalions spoke loudly from proclamations and traveling statesmen.

Beginning "unofficially" last night with Moravia-Ostrava, they successively took possession today of Iglau, Brno, Theresienstadt, Kraschau, Witkowitz, Melnik, Michaelkovitz, Mistek, Olmutz, Pilsen and Prague.

Seizure of Prague more than any other occupation demonstrated to the world that Czechoslovakia as a state is dead and gone.

The precise form the relationship of Bohemia-Moravia to the rest of the German reich would take was something which Hitler was pondering as his special train sped toward Dresden and thence toward Prague.

Irrevocable Regulations

Government spokesmen made it plain, however, that the following facts must be recognized as irrevocable:

1. Hacha has ceased to be president. Hitler will work in close cooperation with him, however, for the liquidation of the Czech state.

2. The Czech army has ceased to exist. As a gesture of civility, however, Czech officers were permitted to keep their sabres and side-arms, and were not compelled to hand them over to German occupation officers.

3. The Czechs and Moravians will be conceded full cultural autonomy. They will be allowed to continue the use of their language, to have their own schools and to preserve their national customs and costumes.

4. They will fly the Nazi swastika as their flag, but on festive occasions they may also fly their ancient Bohemian and Moravian local flags.

5. Their passports will be German but possibly with a notation indicating that the holder is a Czech by "folkdom." Foreign legations in Prague will be changed to consulates.

6. As Bohemia and Moravia are now part of greater Germany, obviously German money, German postage stamps, German regulations for imports and exports will obtain.

7. Insofar as possible local government will be in the hands of Bohemians and Moravians.

8. Existing commercial agreements with other nations will be handled in the same manner as was done in the case of Austria and Sudetenland — by mutual agreement with the opposite contracting parties.

9. No male belonging to the Bohemian or Moravian "folkdom" will be expected to serve in the army of greater Germany.

10. Whether or not members of either "folk group" can be used as policemen depends on the spirit of loyalty to the new regime which Bohemia and Moravia will show in ensuing days. If accepted, they must naturally swear an oath of loyalty to Hitler.

11. Administrative officials will be allowed to continue to function insofar as they are willing loyally to serve their new master.

Summing up these plans, a government spokesman said:

principles in liquidating the former Czech state — from the viewpoint of state policy Bohemia and Moravia are now a part of greater Germany; from the viewpoint of racial or folk policy the greatest possible cultural autonomy is to be accorded the people who have now placed themselves under our protection."

Cheers And Hisses For The Nazis

the people were grimly silent.

Roads Patrolled

Armored cars, transport trucks, small cars with light machine guns, mess kitchens and motorcycle field police formed the bulk of the parade which took one and one-half hours to pass.

By 8 a. m. (1 a. m. CST) roads leading to Prague were being patrolled by field police. Gradually other units arrived and at 10 a. m. commanding officers with their staffs appeared in the suburbs.

The officers inspected what the advance guards had done. Light machine-guns had been placed along the routes of entry and patrols watched carefully over the roads and streets. Shortly after 10 o'clock the march in force started into the city.

It was snowing hard on the edge of Prague and streets of the capital were slushy.

The German habit of driving on the right side caused some confusion until army drivers got used to the Czech left-hand rule of the road.

Czech drivers paid little attention to their guests. They darted in and out among army vehicles mulling to themselves.

A curfew was ordered for 8 p. m. (1 p. m. CST) tonight, after that time no person will be allowed on the streets without a pass.

The occupation found many foreign buyers here for the Prague spring fair, including a half dozen or so Americans and Canadians.

Most of them tried to leave this morning before troops arrived, but neither trains nor air-lines were operating.

Hradecny castle, President Hacha's official home, was occupied by German troops.

The Czech short wave radio station which broadcasts programs to the United States had been shut down by the Germans.

The chief administrative buildings, including the defense ministry and main post office, immediately were occupied by German troops.

The first of the troops, coming to give Adolf Hitler's protection to the shattered Czech state, reached the Konylis airport at the outskirts of Prague at 8 a. m.

Three automobiles carrying officers previously entered the capital to contact local authorities.

Loud speakers at intervals admonished the population to remain quiet when the troops entered.

It explained that they were coming by agreement between the Chancellor Hitler of Germany, the Czech president, Emil Hacha, and Foreign Minister Frantisek Chvalkovsky.

Groups of several hundred solemn-faced persons gathered before loud speakers. Streets were filled with shop girls going to work and with delivery wagons on their early morning rounds.

Jews (there are about 35,000 in Prague) and between 500 and 1,000 German emigres were panic stricken. They sought ways of leaving what was Czechoslovakia but exits were closed. Many went into hiding.

They went to bed with a safe feeling in Czechoslovakia Monday night.

Last night they went to bed in Bohemia with an uneasy feeling. They got up this morning in a state subject to German wishes. A boundary has passed over them during the night.

Sons Of Legion Have Postponed Meeting

Sons of the American Legion have postponed their meeting scheduled for tonight, March 15, at the old postoffice building until next regular meeting night. This was done because of the Legion birthday celebration to be held tonight at the Armory hall on West Second street.

State Labor Board Killed

House Committee Ousts Proposal To Create S. L. R. B.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 15—(P)—Two labor-supported proposals to create a state labor relations board on the pattern of the federal Wagner Act were killed in house committee Tuesday.

They were backed by A. F. of L. and C. I. O. union groups in Missouri and would have given workers in industries confined to the state the same rights of those engaged in interstate commerce.

"Such legislation as this is coming in Missouri," argued Cliff Langsdale, Kansas City attorney for A. F. of L. unions, in a committee hearing. "I hope this legislature will realize Missouri workmen should have the right to bargain collectively, and to join unions of their own choosing."

Also killed in the labor committee was a measure which would have prohibited the employment of any person by a city, county or the state, if such person had a husband or wife gainfully employed.

Against Salary Hiking

A house group determined against salary-hiking measures beat a bill to add $1,300 annually to the income of rural circuit judges today, but later the chamber approved a measure to increase the mileage allowance to judges of county courts.

The bill to raise the pay of judges in small circuits lost 58 to 52 after Rep. William B. Weakley (D) Pike county, called upon the members to "take a stand against all salary hiking bills."

Under the present law county court judges can collect five cents mileage only for the three court terms each year.

J. H. McQuiddy To Meeting Of Tool Engineers

J. H. McQuiddy left today for Detroit to attend the National Convention of the American Society of Tool Engineers, being sent as a representative from the Missouri Pacific shops. He will be gone about a week.

Mrs. McQuiddy will accompany him to St. Louis where she will be the guest of Mrs. John Atkinson.

Mr. McQuiddy is a foreman at the shops.

Contest At S-C High School In Dramatics

At Least Nine Communities To Be Represented

Plans are underway for the annual Pettis County Dramatics contest to be held in the Smith-Cotton high school auditorium March 28 and 29, with at least nine and probably more communities participating.

The contest is sponsored by the County Home Demonstration office, Mrs. Claire L. Montgomery, demonstration agent in charge.

There is more than the usual interest in the contest this year and an executive committee has been appointed to complete final arrangements. Its members are: Mrs. H. L. Hill, chairman, Mrs. Richard Barrick, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. C. E. Ferguson, Mrs. Floyd McFarland, Roy Freund.

In addition to the plays there will be contests for the best male quartet, female quartet, and mixed quartet. Mrs. W. P. Tucker is in charge of these contests, as well as the special numbers in the plays and between acts. In the quartet contests one number is named, the other to be selected. The required number for the men is Far Away In The South, the women, "Suwanee Shore," and the mixed quartet, "Blue Bells of Scotland."

Points In Scoring

The points on which the judges will score the plays and players are:

1. Acting and Interpretation — (a) Interpretation (1) Understanding and sincerity in interpretation of the character parts. (2) Intelligent reading of the lines, 25 per cent.

(b) Speech — (1) Pronunciation; (2) Clear, distinct enunciation; (3) Good voice quality; (4) Audibility. Players should easily be heard in the rear of the auditorium, 20 per cent.

Rev. F. E. Kirker To Give Lenten Address

Continuing the custom of a number of years, the Broadway Presbyterian church brings to our city, out of town guest speakers on Thursday nights during Lent. This week Dr. F. E. Kirker, of Marshall, will speak at the 7:30 hour of service. Dr. Kirker is reputedly a profound thinker on theological subjects. His theme for this week is "The Ministry of Jesus." Both friends and strangers are invited.

Slight Damage In Fire

The fire companies at 10:13 this morning were called to the residence of Dell Farris, 1116 East Third street, where sparks from a burning flue had set fire to the roof of the dwelling.

Slight damage resulted. When a passage that especially pleased him had been written by William Makepeace Thackeray, he clapped on his hat and rushed out to find a friend to whom he might read it.

Nice for Sunday school or parties is this smart little silk print with tiny, colorful field flowers on a navy background. It has a gathered skirt and a fitted bodice with guipure vestee of pin-tucked white batiste and turned down collar.

Committee Is For Reduction In Relief Fund

Would Slash Appropriation By $20,000,000

JEFFERSON CITY, March 15—(P)—The House Appropriations committee today recommended $29,000,000 for the state's social security program in 1939-40—almost $20,000,000 less than officials said would be needed to carry on the vast welfare program.

The bill allocated the funds as follows: $19,500,000 for old age pensions, $5,000,000 for direct relief, $2,500,000 for aid to dependent children and $2,000,000 for administration.

Federal matching funds exceeding $22,000,000 could be obtained under the bill, so that $51,000,000 would be available for the Missouri program the next two years.

The Social Security Commission had submitted requests of $48,400,000. In the committee bill, the heaviest cuts were made in direct relief and aid to dependent children. The respective requests for these were $15,000,000 and $6,450,000.

Committee Chairman John D. Taylor (D), Keytesville, declared the social security expenditures had to be held within the limits of the approved bill because no more revenue would be available.

Ten appropriation bills already introduced carry appropriations of $24,600,000 from central revenue, he said, and the social security measure will raise the figure to $53,600,000.

"We will have only about $60,275,000 in general revenue after the one-third for the schools is taken out," he explained. "Thus subtracting $53,600,000, there will be $6,675,000 for the twelfth and last bill, the omnibus."

"Eliminating the schools' one third, the social security program will eat up almost exactly half of the general revenue under our bill."

Espagnole Sauce

One-half cup butter, 1-2 cup flour, 1 quart brown stock, salt. Melt butter and let brown slightly. Add sifted flour, blend and stir. Let simmer so slowly that mixture is not nicely browned in less than 20 to 25 minutes, stirring quite frequently to keep it cooking evenly. Let cool somewhat, and add warm broth a little at a time, stirring vigorously until smooth. Put over slow heat, stir constantly until it is thickened and smooth. Then simmer or cook in double boiler at least 15 minutes, stirring often enough to prevent a film from forming. Season with salt, and add 2 tablespoons wine if you wish. Serve as is, with fish, meat and poultry, and with some vegetables.

The nearest approximation in cans to home-made brown sauce is Consomme Madrilene, they say. The Browns give a list of sauces based on the basic Espagnole Sauce. For 1 cup Espagnole, to make:

Anchovy Sauce: Add 1 or 2 teaspoons anchovy paste. Serve with fish.

Bretonne (Brittany) Sauce: Add 2 tablespoons minced mushrooms, 1 minced garlic clove, 2 tablespoons tomato sauce or puree, and simmer; add 1 teaspoon minced parsley. Serve with tenderloin steaks, or with reheated beef.

Sauce Bordelaise (brown): Add 1 tablespoon minced shallot and 1 minced garlic clove that have been slightly fried in 1 tablespoon butter; add 1-2 cup claret (or unsweetened grape juice); boil until reduced to proper consistency.

ency. Season with salt and cayenne. Add 1-2 teaspoon minced parsley, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, and sliced beef marrow that has been blanched by pouring salted boiling water over it. Serve with steaks or mushrooms.

Caper Sauce: Add 1 or 2 tablespoons capers, 1-4 teaspoon black pepper, and the smallest grating of nutmeg.

Diabole (Devil) Sauce: Add 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, 4 tablespoons meat gravy, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, cayenne, and 1 teaspoon minced parsley.

Fermiere (Farmwife) Sauce: Add 3 tablespoons minced ham, 1 tablespoon capers, and 2 teaspoons minced parsley. Serve with game.

Cheeseburger Combine one pound of hamburger with 1/4 pound of grated American cheese. Form into patties 1-3 inch thick, pan broil until well browned. Serve in buns.

One of the popular luncheon meats to be found in every store is called ham sausage. It is coarsely chopped ham pressed into a square or round shape. That is the meat for this delicious sandwich:

Meat Loaf Sandwich Select any of the popular meat loaves on the market—there are many to choose from. This is an open face sandwich. Place a whole slice of meat loaf on a slice of buttered bread. Top with a mound of cream cottage cheese which has been mixed with crushed pineapple. This is excellent served with a thin clear soup.

Raising a Family

When the phonograph was first carried into our front parlors everybody said, "There goes the end of music. Now that it's canned, no one will want to play."

The radio soon grounded its roots around our pipe and stuck its branches from the house top. And people said, "That's it, surely. We may as well put the piano in storage and lay Grandpa's fiddle in its coffin. More canned music."

Besides all that, dance halls moved out on the road and no one was needed to play two-steps when the crowd came in. Dot was no longer in demand, with the boys turning the pages, and whirling the stool to suit her. Definitely, the girl who "played" seemed to have lost her line.

Movies turned to talkies and then to singies; and the groaners groaned some more.

And then we woke up yesterday to a stranger sound. It was thousands of youngsters playing something or other where only hundreds had played before. And it was not canned music, but melody learned under capable instructors at home, at school or in the studio.

So now let us talk about the idea of lessons. How old should a child be when he begins his studies? What can we do about the one who won't practice? Is it right to let a boy or girl choose the instrument he likes best? If a child loves to sing, should he be given singing lessons first, or be taught the rudiments of music on the piano?

Six is not too young an age to begin learning. If a child is naturally musical, he may want to begin earlier. Seven or eight is a good compromise, but it is never too late to learn. Many a child who simply balks at the idea of music in any form whatsoever when he is little, can take it up at ten, or twelve, or fifteen, and still turn out a fine player.

Modern methods of teaching are far more engaging than the old ways. Teachers work on the interest angle. Practicing is not the dull drudgery it used to be.

Hopeless If Unhappy
But if a child, after a few months of trial, or even a year, shows that he is really miserable about it all, and has to be driven beyond the limit of your patience and his own peace of mind, then I believe his instructor will tell you that it is hopeless and to save your money. I agree with that.

Practicing takes perseverance, and most children have to be reminded and helped a little on

The Family Doctor

"Trivial" Incident of Childhood May Affect Whole Later Life

Among all the letters which pass across the desks of those who offer medical advice to the public, the most difficult for which to frame a satisfactory reply are those which concern conditions that are largely mental rather than physical.

It might be thought that such would be easier to answer, but in most cases, only a complete and thorough investigation of the life of the person concerned, from the very time of birth, would yield complete information.

Here, for instance, is a part of a letter which indicates how a peculiar fear may harass a person throughout a long life of usefulness.

Dear Doctor:

I am 70 years old, a retired railroad engineer, with 40 years of service. I have passed examinations every year, but for years if anybody looked at me when I went to sign my name, my hand would shake so that I could hardly write anything and my heart would thump. I would try to sign when the doctor was not looking. Now yesterday I had to sign my name in the courthouse. My hand shook so that I could hardly dip my pen in the ink-bottle and my heart thumped against my ribs, because I felt so ashamed. I do not think I would be afraid of any man in the courthouse if it came to a fight. Is there anything I can do to overcome this fear, or this complex if that is what you call it?

This letter was written in an excellent handwriting, firm and neat, which shows that the difficulty is not related to the physical problem of writing, but to some wholly mental factor. Many of the leading investigators of problems of this type are convinced that some of them are associated with occurrences which may have happened early in childhood, about which the individual has forgotten. If a careful study is made, the person may bring these occurrences out of the realm of forgotten memories; when they are once revealed and understood the difficulty disappears.

For example, a child who craves the admiration and love of its mother might be greatly shamed by the teasing and satire of some older person, while trying to demonstrate to its mother the first steps in learning to write.

The reactions on such an occasion might rise up to haunt that person again and again in later years. For these reasons, all of us ought to consider very carefully our relationships to the growing children for whom we assume responsibility.

Young Vancouver Sets Pace on the Pacific

The intrepid explorer, Capt. George Vancouver, first saw the site for the city which today bears his name when he entered its beautiful harbor in the late years of the 18th century. But hardly could he have visualized the metropolis that was one day to rise as his monument. Vancouver itself, for that matter, scarcely saw its full future when it had its corporate beginning back in 1886. In 1901 it was only 29,432 in population. Today it numbers roughly 250,000.

This humming modern city is really Canada's gateway to the Orient. Through its exceptional port pass Canadian wheat, flour, copper, lead, zinc, paper, pulp, lumber, sealskins, canned and salt fish. Vancouver's grain elevators could accommodate the whole wheat crop of Alberta at one time. Such is the gauge of this port's facilities.

But Vancouver is not merely a shipping point. It is important for its metal foundries, shingle, saw, paper and pulp mills, for its sugar refineries, clothing and food factories and for its shipbuilding. It is, moreover, British Columbia's largest city and therefore its axis of trade at the end of the trans-continental railways.

Its harbor is one of the most beautiful in the world. Across the harbor from Vancouver is Victoria, the capital of the province. The harbor is shown above on a current Canadian stamp, one of four pictorials portraying the history and significance of the Dominion.

Amateur Boxers To Springfield

Sedalia's amateur boxers will make a team to journey to Springfield Thursday afternoon when they will meet the cream of the Green county crop at the Shrine Masque, that night.

Many requests have been received in Sedalia for the local team to appear in various towns in Missouri and Kansas, and the invitation to Springfield is one of the first invitations to be accepted since the tournaments.

Making the trip will be Denver "Buck" Miller, 112; Dean Murray 118; Wilbur "Billy" Smith, 126; Charles Cooper, 135; Henry Harter 126 and Alvin Cole, 147, the latter two boys from the colored team.

Ellsworth Green, secretary of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, will accompany the local fighters to Green county, and Clarence Henley will instruct the boys before entering the ring.

Incoelda Not Be In The Derby

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 15.—Herbert M. Woolf, owner of the Woolford Stables, Kansas City, announced he had withdrawn Incoelda, outstanding juvenile filly of last year, from the Kentucky Derby.

Woolf said she would be entered, along with Unerring, either in the Pimlico Oaks or Kentucky Oaks, features for fillies.

Incoelda, which won $30,000 in 15 starts last year, Woolf said was not big enough for the Derby.

"The Kentucky Derby is not a race for fillies unless the horse is unusually big for a filly and Incoelda is not big, I have Technician still in the Derby and he has an excellent chance to win it. I didn't want my friends making winter book bets on Incoelda when I'd probably be withdrawing her eventually, so I'm announcing it early."

Incoelda is now at Tropical Park along with the rest of the Woolford farm under Trainer B. A. Jones. Woolf said he planned to stay here another week. After the season closes at Tropical Park the whole stable will be shipped to Louisville.

Annual Shoot At Marshall

MARSHALL, Mo., March 15.—A number of sportsmen from Sedalia have signified their intentions of attending the Wild Life Shoot Sunday, March 19, at the Saline County Gun club at Stanhope, seven miles northwest of Marshall.

It will be an all-day shoot with the traps open for practice at 9 o'clock and with Lela Hall, who for the last five years has held the title of the world's greatest woman shot, firing the opening gun at 10 o'clock.

Some of the outstanding sportsmen in Missouri are expected for this shoot which is sponsored by the Saline county unit of the Conservation Federation of Missouri.

Warrensburg Wins In A Close Game

Padgett Is Out For Some Time

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 15.—(P)—The St. Louis Cardinals not only dropped a game to the Cincinnati Reds, 9 to 2, Tuesday but they also lost the services of Catcher Don Padgett for an indefinite period.

Don suffered a dislocated left shoulder as he slipped and fell rounding second base.

Bucky Walters pitched seven innings for the Reds and hit a home run inside the park with the bases loaded in the seventh. Ernie Lombardi also got a homer.

Kenneth Raffensberger started for the Cards and yielded only one hit in three impressive innings.

Layton Scores A Double Victory

HARTFORD, Conn., March 15.—Johnny Layton, of Sedalia, Mo., representing Hartford in the national three cushion billiard championship yesterday won two matches from Charles McCourt of Cleveland, O., 50 to 26, and the second, 50 to 49.

The opening match went 59 innings with Layton and McCourt each scoring a high run of three. Layton won the second in 63 innings, recording a high run of five.

Benefit Checks To Unemployed

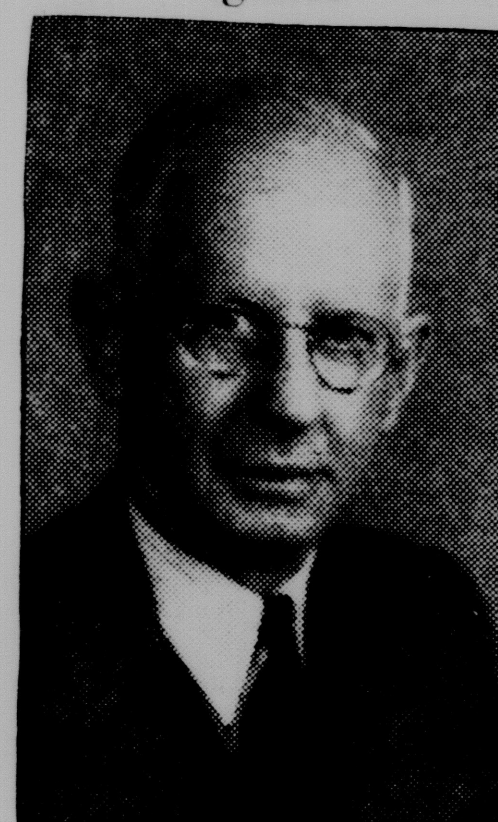

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 15.—Unemployed workers who met the requirements of the Missouri Unemployment Compensation Law received $5,764 benefit checks amounting to $702,198.49 during the first 36 days of benefit payments from January 30, to March 11, inclusive, it was announced today by Richard L. Crevelt, chief of the department of tabulations of the unemployment commission.

Life Sentence To Negro Is Upheld

JEFFERSON CITY, March 15.—(P)—The supreme court today upheld the life sentence of a Columbia Negro who once escaped execution as a wife slayer because members of his race had been excluded from jury service.

The court which reversed the original Callaway county conviction of the Negro, Anderson Logan, held there was no evidence of discrimination against Negro jurors at the second trial, even though members of the race were kept off the jury by prosecution challenges.

Logan, convicted of killing his wife on a Columbia street January 3, 1935, was tried in Callaway county on a change of venue. The supreme court held in that case the fact no Negro had been on the court's jury venire for years made valid his contention that he had been denied the constitutional right to trial by members of his own race.

At the second trial six Negroes were on the original jury venire but none was accepted for actual jury service. Logan's attorneys contended, among other things, that the prosecution's use of challenges against prospective Negro jurors constituted racial discrimination. The supreme court denied the contention and affirmed the conviction.

More than "making the motions" when you change to OIL-PLATING

...the oil-change plus

Dump Winter-fouled oil. Whatever you do, drain and refill now with something. But drain and refill with Conoco Germ Processed oil and then your engine's OIL-PLATED. Then it's got more than swell fresh oil down in the crankcase—it's got another big plus all the way up...It's got fresh surfacing...OIL-PLATING. That comes from the actual union of this patented oil direct with inner engine surfaces. Conoco Germ Processing gives this oil so much "power of attraction" that it cannot drain down and leave engine parts bare, though your car stands by the hour or speeds by the hour.

Never all Spring and Summer, with Germ Processed oil, can your engine suffer rasping "dry starts"...not with every square inch always oiled in advance by drain-proof OIL-PLATING. Nor will four to five thousand revolutions per minute whirl away this implanted OIL-PLATING. It stays on. It helps the oil-level to stay up. Your OIL-PLATED engine and Germ Processed oil will both be giving you plus mileage. Change today to Your Mileage Merchant. Continental Oil Company
